March 5 – “A World You Hoped For”

Rev. Dr. Julie Kain

In these troubled and troubling times, more than ever we need a strong community to sustain us and with whom we can join our efforts to Create a World We Always Hoped For. Many of us have found our community of fellow world builders in Unitarian Universalism and we are here to invite those who are looking for us to add their voices and hands to the endeavor. Last day of annual UUCP budget drive. Newcomer Hospitality Welcome after the service.

REMEMBER DAYLIGHT SAVINGS!
SET YOUR CLOCKS TO “SPRING FORWARD”!!!
 See you at service!

March 12 – “Spring Fever”

Rev. Dr. Julie Kain

Come share your spring fever with us accompanied by upbeat music in an inspirational service for all ages. Spring potluck Luncheon will follow the service.

March 19 – “Extreme Threat”

Rev. Dr. Julie Kain

The service will take a probing look at violent threats originating from religious extremism in our world today. As Unitarian Universalists, how can we respond most effectively to the harsh realities? Sunday Sweets available & UU Booktable open after service!

March 26 – "A Theology of Abundance"

Sara Green, UUCP Intern Minister

What happens when the cosmology of our society is based on a model of scarcity- on the idea that there isn't enough for all of us? We fall prey to the creation of borders and the enclosure of wealth that isolate us from others. Moving into a theology of abundance means that we are constantly in the process of sharing more, loving bigger and re-shaping communities.

April 2 – “Minding Our Emotions”

Rev. Dr. Julie Kain

Under pressure, our emotions can become more volatile than usual. The service title has a double meaning - when our emotions are bothering us, and those times when we are able to tend to our emotions with an attitude of mindfulness

Save the Date!

The Honor of Your Presence is Joyfully Requested at the Ordination of Maggie Lovins as a Community Minister with the Unitarian Universalist Church of Pensacola Florida

Create the World You Always Hoped For!

Thanks to all our members and friends who are stepping up to financially support the Unitarian Universalist Church of Pensacola as it holds an important place in our larger community as a stronghold of liberal values, progressive faith and caring community.

This is an important time to remember, that as local Unitarian Universalists, we are NOT ALONE in the important work to live by our values.

Please consider signing the Declaration of Conscience crafted jointly by the leadership of the Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA) and the Unitarian Universalist Service Committee (UUSC).

“At this extraordinary time in our nation’s history, we are called to affirm our profound commitment to the fundamental principles of justice, equity and compassion, to truth and core values of American society.

In the face of looming threats to immigrants, Muslims, people of color, and the LGBTQ community and the rise of hate speech, harassment and hate crimes, we affirm our belief in the inherent worth and dignity of every person.

In opposition to any steps to undermine the right of every citizen to vote or to turn back advances in access to health care and reproductive rights, we affirm our commitment to justice and compassion in human relations.

And against actions to weaken or eliminate initiatives to address the threat of climate change – actions that would threaten not only our country but the entire planet – we affirm our unyielding commitment to protect the interdependent web of all existence.

We will oppose any and all unjust government actions to deport, register, discriminate, or despoil.

As people of conscience, we declare our commitment to translate our values into action as we stand on the side of love with the most vulnerable among us.

We welcome and invite all to join in this commitment for justice.

The time is now.”

-The Rev. Peter Morales, UUA President,
AND

-The Hon. Tom Andrews,

Our Caring Community

We offer our supportive thoughts and gestures to Judy Freeman, Debra DuBose and Pam Ubben. Judy was discharged from rehab at The Haven after breaking her hip in a fall and is now staying with Debra and Pam. Debra has finished her intensive follow-up treatment of medicine after her knee surgery but will be continuing to recover for some time. Debra and Pam arranged for some of Judy’s essentials to be moved into their home with the help of several volunteer hands, including Mark Beyerl who provided his truck and trailer.

Congratulations to Reid Harwell who recently had the thrill of singing in a chorus at Carnegie Hall on a trip accompanied with his mother, Donna. Kudos and Wow!

Special thanks to Michael Newcomb, Honor Bell and members of the Chalice Circle that meets at Carol Hemmye’s home for offering to assist with our memorial services. Carol Hemmye, Laurie Winterberg and Penny Featherstone from their circle, and Marcy Moreland, helped to provide reception support to the family and friends of Jennifer (Tow) Heath who gathered to celebrate her life. Honor Bell also provided much appreciated technical support in the sound room with the showing of a beautiful slideshow tribute and

Sara's Sayings

Monthly column from our own Intern Minister, Sara Green

"It is no measure of health to be well adjusted to a profoundly sick society," said the Indian philosopher, Jiddu Krishnamurti. Today, these words are comforting to me, as I feel everything happening around me. I've been feeling sluggish and sad. Some days, I don't eat much. Some days, I want to eat cereal for every meal. Krishnamurti's words remind me that nothing about this is normal. I am reminded that people aren't created to trample on the rights of others and that my body is responding to this crisis. My body's reaction is a signal- similar to the canary in the cave- but only if we listen.

I've been thinking about what, then, does health and healing entail. Of course, being active in speaking with others and defending human rights is part of what I'm doing to correct the imbalance. But I am also being

I am being intentional about naming the foodways and values grown into what I'm eating. It is my personal goal for February to eat more vegetables in the spirit of gratitude for those who harvest them, to drink water that reminds me that I am connected to people traveling across seas to find freedom, and to spend time with plants used by my ancestors to sustain us through the struggle.

It is on this note that I would love to share one of my favorite herbal tea recipes that I am sipping on this February. These herbs have been used by western herbalists to ease our bodies into spaces of abundant creativity and grounding. If you're interested in trying an herbal tea practice, combine these herbs and steep in hot water for 10 minutes. Drink with intention and other elements (such as music, silence, a reading) as you see fit.

- 2 parts Comfrey
- 4 parts peppermint
- 2 parts Uva ursi
- 2 parts Lemon grass
- 1 part skullcap

In love and solidarity, Sara

You can find these and other medicinal herbs at your local market such as Ever'mans.

helped to return the sanctuary to its Sunday morning configuration.

Thanks to our members Rev. Bob Eddy, Erin Renfro, Mark Beyerl and Rick Ardoin for their Sunday morning testimonials in support of our Budget Drive. Thanks also to James Hutcheson, a UU currently stationed here, who shared a testimonial on his positive experiences as a young person who participated in the OWL program at his home church in Virginia

(Our Whole Lives sexuality education curriculum).

Congratulations to Rose Jansen who accepted a full time position at Spectrum House, an organization that provides support services for autistic youth and their families. Rose stepped out of the half-time office position at UUCP, and Honor Bell returned to the job with limited hours and availability (15 hours per week, working Friday, Saturday and some Sunday mornings).

Congratulations to Paula Montgomery who was honored as Public Citizen of the Year by the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) local chapter. She is certainly an activist extraordinaire!

Thanks to Alan Nitzman and his wife Brenda Goebel for the construction of a compost bin for yard debris on our church grounds and to Ann Brun for requesting it!

GATHERINGS

UUCP LUUnch
BUUnch
Wed. Mar 8, 1pm

Beware the Ides of March (15/3), but a week before, 8 March, #2 Wednesday of month three, Lunch Bunch will try Pensacola Cooks Kitchen at 3670 Barrancas, 512-4242 (north side, across from eastern end of Pensacola Country Club Golf course, between Jamison St. and Fleet Road; the end of the building fronts Barrancas, with wide/rough parking lot to the right/see Google Maps). PCK's web site lists many interesting menu presentations and that it is NOT a conventional restaurant - does NOT take reservations, does not "do" groups, serves only 10 am to 2 pm - with unusual recipes, well worth a try. As usual, let Hugh T. know ( @church 478 -2373 huturn@juno.com ) of your interest. Early UUs can/may try to hold nearby seats to the extent permitted, at 1 PM; some seating is at a bar (but drink menu ??). (About a year ago, Gerry and Marylee celebrated the favors of PCK, so inquire from them if you have questions.)

For Wed. 8 February, ten (10) of us found Habana Jack's for a taste of Cuban cuisine. With the menu slanted toward pork and beef, vegetarian fare was found under appetizers, OK for three of us; our carnivores mostly endured their entrees or sandwiches. .

WOMEN'S SPIRITUALITY CIRCLE

Wed. Mar 15, 6:30 pm

Q&A—Audrey Preston
(audreyloupreston@gmail.com)

"Our mission is to create a safe and welcoming space for women to experience spirituality in community."

Snacks begin at 6:30; bring some to share. Please consider staying to help with cleanup. All women are encouraged to be respectful of our collective time by being mindful of our start time of 6:30 and our ending time of 8:30, so we may clean up and be out of the building at 9 pm.

Welcome New Member Olivia Hawkins

Olivia Hawkins was born in Maine, moved to Hawaii at 3, lived the most years in Costa Rica and went to high school in India.

And today she's settled in Pensacola, majoring in music education and English at University of West Florida and working at the UWF Writing Lab – and, at UUCP, sharing her musical talents and teaching the Wanderers class, even before recently becoming a UUCP member.

"I love teaching," says Olivia. "I consider teaching my vocation and music my passion." She clarifies, "Music is my life, not a hobby."

Her passion is about to be shared even more extensively with UUCP members. "I am starting a choir that will rehearse before the service once or twice a month. I look forward to building the music program at UUCP and contributing my skill set to my faith home."

Olivia's move to Florida is mainly a heritage result. Her grandparents live in Florida, so when her parents – Steven Hawkins and his wife, Liz Hawkins – needed to establish U.S. residency years ago in order to move to India, they picked Florida. Subsequently, says Olivia, "When I was choosing a university, I chose UWF because I get in-state tuition, it is a small school and it has a strong music education program."

And once enrolled: "I like the general friendliness of people here. I like the community I have found in the music department at UWF."

Her career goal is to become a music teacher, especially a choir director. "I love the sense of community that choir creates." Today, when spare time allows, Olivia enjoys reading – with science fiction and fantasy among her favorites – dancing, horseback riding and making macramé bracelets.

Olivia lives with her parents. Her Dad, Steven, is a teacher, an active member of UUCP and does theater for social change. Her Mom, Olivia says, customarily spends part of the year in Pensacola with her family, part of the year traveling, and part of it back at the Hawkins farm in Costa Rica running a tourism business. Currently, Olivia's Mom is here full time, helping to care for Olivia's grandmother; the grandparents live next door. Also part of Olivia's household is her brother Sam, who's working on his GED with plans to enter engineering or sailing, and Olivia's boyfriend Raistlin, a musician. Olivia's older brother, Cyrus, and his wife captain a yacht that travels the world.

Olivia was raised with no particular religious denomination. When in Costa Rica, she attended a Quaker school for two years. "I decided that I was a Quaker because I like the message of nonviolence and the idea that the light of God is in everyone." Today, she says, "the Unitarian Universalist service and community give me a place to be spiritual with others" although she still misses the Quaker meeting.

"I'm glad that UUCP exists here. My Dad said a UU congregation is the best place to find the 'non sheep,' people who are progressive and open-minded.

"As I have been teaching the core UU values to the Wanderers, I have felt increasingly drawn to the message of acceptance that UU offers."

Renée Perry

For Renée Perry, edible plants are fascinating and organic gardening is a career.

With husband Tom Garner, Renée co-owns East Hill Edible Gardening. “Our mission is to help people grow their own food by offering organic gardening classes, home garden and permaculture consultations and by selling vegetable and herb plants.”

Renée has a bachelor’s degree in health science education from the University of Florida. After college, one of her life adventures was serving a Peace Corps volunteer stint at a teachers’ college in the Central African Republic.

Husband Tom is a UWF historian and archeologist whose discovery of artifacts near Pensacola Bay led to identification of the historic Luna colony site. Tom, says Renée, “is an extraordinary person of many talents about whom an entire book could be written.”

Renée was born in Akron, Ohio, and raised in Cary, NC. She moved to Pensacola with her parents when in high school, has lived in several other places since then, and returned to Pensacola some 20 years ago to be near family. Her parents and one of her sisters live here. Pensacola is now home, “a place I know well, and since starting our gardening business I have met many kindred spirits here.”

When not gardening, Renée enjoys a kinship with music and dance. “I absolutely love dancing, particularly contra dancing, and hope one day to bring it back to Pensacola. I am also an amateur accordion, banjo and piano player.”

But first, there is gardening. “I am fascinated with edible and other useful plants! I love that I get to work with and talk about growing them to people who want to listen!

“I would love one day to have a nursery where I could offer all my favorite plants, where we could also offer our classes, and where we could have a public garden to demonstrate our unique gardening techniques.”

In addition to gardening, “I am very interested in all subsistence/survival arts. There is a wonderful feeling of security in knowing how to provide for my basic needs, plus those skills are fun.”

Renée was glad to discover Unitarian principles.

“My parents grew up Christian, but never really took us to church. My Mom always felt like God was more likely found in the outdoors. I became a confirmed atheist in sixth grade, but rarely let anyone know that. Everyone I knew believed in God even if they rarely went to church. I don’t think I ever got in trouble for my beliefs, but based on culture and schooling I just somehow knew it was not easily accepted. Keeping it to myself was painful and set me up for a lifetime of feeling I never belonged anywhere since no one knew who I really was.

“I first sought out UUs when I lived in Raleigh. It was such a

Renée and husband Tom Garner

relief finding that I could be myself in that space.

“I am very grateful for this church. Though I had never joined before, I was very involved with UUCP in the late ’90s, but drifted away. I am very glad to be back and am a proud new member.”
